Association of Women Contractors Scholarships Available Deadline Tomorrow April 30th

At the Association of Women Contractors, we believe that our future women business owners start out in the workplace both fields, trades and in offices. With the mission to drive equity in terms of the ratio of women-owned business and women in the construction industry, we offer financial support in the form of scholarships to female students and apprentices who are pursuing careers in the construction industry.

Through these scholarships, we aim to assist recipients in affording their education, connecting with members and developing a strong support system. AWC provides two types of scholarships for outstanding FEMALES. You can find the details of the application eligibility criteria and application process below.
